PREFERENTIAL TARIFF OF BRITISH SOUTH AFRICA.

The Preferential Tariff Principle was adopted by the British South African Customs Union in the year 1903. Provision was made in the South African Customs Union Convention of 1906, which came into force May 25, 1906, as amended by protocol added thereto, with effect from June 23, 1908, to continue the preferential idea.

The Tariff of British South Africa provides for a rebate of duty to be allowed upon articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the United Kingdom imported therefrom into the Union for consumption therein. A similar rebate is granted to articles the growth, produce or manufacture of any British Colony, Protectorate or Possession granting equivalent reciprocal privileges to the Colonies and Territories which formerly belonged to the South African Customs Union.

The rebates granted are as follows :—

- (a) On certain goods charged with specific rates of duty, a rebate of varying amount, (such rebate is equivalent to about 3 per cent ad valorem.)
- (b) On goods liable to mixed rates of duty (i.e. both specific and ad valorem rates) and also on goods liable to ad valorem rates of duty, a rebate of 3 per cent ad valorem.

Articles the growth, produce or manufacture of Canada have been accorded preferential treatment since July 1, 1904.

The following table shows that the Imports of Canadian goods into British South Africa since 1906 have increased about 50 per cent, while those from the United States have increased but slightly.

IMPORTS of Merchandise into British South Africa.

The preferential treatment accorded Canadian goods gives Canadian exporters a material advantage over exporters of non-British countries. The appended table illustrates the advantage Canada has over the United States.

NOTE.—Canada accords British South Africa the benefits of her Preferential tariff.

PREFERENTIAL TARIFF OF NEW ZEALAND.

The Preferential Tariff Principle was adopted by the Government of New Zealand in the year 1903. The New Zealand Tariff Act, No. 15, of 1907, which was consolidated with the Reciprocity Acts of 1903, 1906 and 1907 by Act 35 of 1908, provides that from July 17, 1907 preferential treatment be accorded various articles—the produce or manufacture of British Dominions—by the imposition of additional duties or surtax on similar articles of foreign production.

An analysis of the items or groups of items under the New Zealand Preferential Tariff gives the following results—

Number of Items or Groups.	Specific, Mixed or Ad valorem Rates.	RATES OF DUTY ON PRODUCTS OF
		Foreign Countries.	British Dominions.
45.....	Specific Rates.....	Varying Amounts.....	Varying amounts but lower than on foreign goods.

The following table shows that the imports of Canadian goods into New Zealand since 1906 have increased, while those from the United States have decreased.

The preferential treatment accorded Canadian goods gives Canadian exporters a decided advantage over exporters of non-British Countries. The appended table illustrates the advantage Canada has over the United States.

NOTE.—Canada accords New Zealand the benefits of her Preferential Tariff.
